Farewell Randal Muir Randal Muir's dedication, brilliance and nurturing of talent for the music community in Tasmania has been incredibly important over the last 25 years. As he moves to northern pastures, this is an opportunity for his regular playing mates and audiences to celebrate his contribution (and encourage him to come back often).

Hannah May

Matinees Lauren Dawes, stellar vocalist from Sydney sings “For Eva: An Eva Cassidy Story,” performing some of the great original and cover interpretations left behind by this beautiful, influential artist. Tasmanian singer/songwriter Hannah May performs a collection of her favourite songs by Norah Jones and inspired originals.

Artist in Residence Through its Cultural Arts Program, Clarence Council commissions artists to create works that complement the Jazz Festival. This year’s Artist in Residence is Sally Glover whose passion lies in the visual creative realm. She has created paintings that will be on display during the festival and have been recreated as wine labels for our festival vintage range.

Clarence Jazz Festival Scholars

Clarence Jazz Festival is dedicated to developing the next generation of young Tasmanian players. As part of its commitment it invites three young artists to participate in a scholarship program which provides six months of private lessons with top tutors. They perform on the Boardwalk on Friday, 23 February.

Lauren Morris: Female Instrumental Scholarship

Liam Matzolic: Open Instrumental Scholarship
